

Do you manage volunteers? Do it better with VSystem One and Verified Volunteers!

Organizations of all sizes and missions rely on volunteers to fill an important role when it comes to fulfilling their missions. However, managing volunteers takes a lot of work – often more than a single volunteer manager can handle. It can be overwhelming to be responsible for recruiting, screening, scheduling, overseeing volunteer tasks and projects, running volunteer recognition programs and reporting program results and their impact. Having the right technologies and systems in place can help – and integrating your volunteer management system with your volunteer screening program can make your job easier and more enjoyable. VSystem One now offers a robust, seamless integration with leading volunteer screening provider Verified Volunteers.
