Building Connection in Long-Term Care

National Association of Long-Term Care Volunteers (NALTCV)

NALTCV strengthens volunteer engagement in long-term care through volunteer training, support for volunteer managers, advocacy, and research. We help long-term care communities build meaningful companion volunteer relationships that reduce loneliness and strengthen belonging.

What NALTCV Offers

- Train companion volunteers to build authentic one-to-one relationships
- Provide tools, guidance, and support for volunteer managers
- Advocate for stronger volunteer engagement in long-term care
- Promote education and research on social connection and quality of life

Why It Matters

Many people living in long-term care communities experience loneliness and social isolation. Trained companion volunteers help reconnect care communities with the broader community through presence, listening, and meaningful relationships.
